Dear Central Families,

Although we are all disappointed to be moving to "At Home Learning" over the next two weeks. We were pleased to be able to celebrate Education Week activities together May 3rd-6th.

It was terrific to be joined by the "Principal for the day" - Maxwell Tilleman on Thursday and also to enjoy a pancake breakfast for students. Thanks to our staff who has worked extremely hard over the last several days to make this week special and to prepare for "At Home Learning". Central School has an amazing group of people with a "Kids first" attitude and a very supportive community.

Teachers and educational assistants are looking forward to connecting with students next week virtually or via phone on a daily basis. Feel free to call the school if you require support with technology or to connect with a staff member, we are here! We are counting down to students returning to in person learning on Tuesday, May 25th, after the long weekend.

In the meantime, please stay safe and take care,

A few operational notes for you: Hot lunch will be postponed until in person learning resumes, our Circle of Courage assembly originally scheduled for May 14th will be moved to early June, on our school calendar Friday, May 21st is a school-based holiday for all students and staff and Thursday, May 13th is a religious holiday for Low German Mennonite families as such there will be no programming expected for LGM students on that day.

Please see the opportunity from Safe Haven for some free bagged lunches for your student(s) should you require them during the "At Home Learning" period. Please call the number on the advertisement to access the wonderful service.

In the meantime, stay safe and take care.

Mr. LeGrandeur
